Fact That Enemy is Forced to Turn Eastward Instead of Being Able to Move Westward.

Washington, June 1.—General Pershing today reported a successful American raid against the German lines yesterday in the Woerpe region with the destruction of 32 Germans, more than twenty of which were killed.

With the French Army on the Marne, May 31.—(Night) — The French are still holding every bridge and passageway across the Marne. As a result of this determined resistance the Germans have apparently withdrawn from the edge of the river onto the plateau above the river valley where they are now seeking to advance to the westward.

Checked in their attempt to cross the Marne the Germans are now confining their efforts to break down the resistance on the wings at Rheims and in the region of Soissons.

British troops on the eastern flank are checking all progress in that direction despite the fact that Rheims is partly surrounded.

Consequently the Germans' heaviest efforts are to the west of Soissons for the purpose of linking up the recent advance in the original Amiens drive.

Held Back by Artillery

London, June 1.—The Germans reached the Marne at Chateau-Thierry, according to some official reports received today.

From Chateau-Thierry small detachments of the enemy worked as far eastward to Bernueil.

This is accepted as an indication that the Germans are not in strong force on the Marne as yet. It is believed they are being held back by French artillery across the river. The fact that the Germans were forced to turn eastward along the Marne instead of being able to move westward augurs well for the allies.

57 On Casualty List.

Washington, June 1.—General Pershing reported 57 names on today's casualty list to the war department, divided as follows: three killed in action, 6 dead of wounds, ten dead of diseases, one dead from airplane accident, twenty-eight wounded and nine missing in action.

Austrian Offensive Expected.

Rome, June 1.—Military critics consider the Austrian offensive imminent. The Austrians continue massing troops along the Italian front. Reinforcements are still arriving from Roumania and Ukraine and new Turkish forces are expected.

The Italians are fully prepared and the morale of the troops is the highest.

Situation Is Serious.

London, June 1.—There is no disguising of the fact that the military

Situation Is Graver Than At Any Time Since Amiens or Ypres Drives

Washington, June 1.—American army experts today viewed the widening western battle with more anxiety than at any time since the boche started blasting from Soissons to Rheims with the smash now extended on into Picardy and Noyon and with Rheims about to be — or already sacrificed. The situation is graver than at any time since Amiens and Ypres.

The chief threat at the moment is to transportation. The boche already has hit two railway lines and is trying to cut the important Châlons lines. Crippling of Allied communication is sought before the drive is continued for Paris.

situation is very serious, not only because the Germans have advanced 28 miles in the past five days, but because they still have a large number of fresh reserves which they can throw into the battle. Until it is known where the reserves will be used the situation will remain anxious.

The transport of British and French reserves is working speedily and there are now plenty to check the German advance, with every hope of holding the enemy to little more progress, it was declared.

Aside from the main German objective at crushing the Anglo-French armies, the enemy has these objectives—the channel ports, separation of the British and French armies and the capture of Amiens and Paris.

Fail To Cross The Marne.

Paris, June 1.—The Germans now occupy a 13-mile front on the north bank of the Marne, between Châlons and Amiens drive.

APPROPRIATES $875 FOR A COUNTY AGENT

$2,000 FOR DEFENSE COUNCIL

The county council yesterday afternoon appropriated $6,410, including $875 to pay the expenses of a county agent and $2,000 for the County Council of Defense.

The council had to be called a second time to get the appropriation through because the first time the councilmen were together, only a quorum was present and one member refused to vote for the appropriation because it contained the item for the county agricultural agent. All but one member was present yesterday and the vote was unanimous. The original appropriation asked for a county agent was $1,500, which was the estimated expense for the year, but the council decided to appropriate enough for the balance of the year with the $1,500 as a basis, since appropriations not used up at the end of the year revert back.

Other items in the appropriation except the two mentioned were: typewriter for clerk's office, $110; adding machine for auditor's office, $525; court house supplies, $1,200; Will Morris bridge, $900; Z. T. Small bridge, $800.

Westbound Interurban Strikes Automobile at Crossing Near Indianapolis Friday Evening

ENGINE OF MACHINE "DIES"

Motorman Says He Blew Whistle and When he Saw Auto, Tried to Stop His Car

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—Three persons, one woman and two small children, are dead, and six others are in hospitals suffering from injuries as a result of an accident early last night, when an automobile was struck by an inbound limited interurban on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati line at the South Arlington avenue crossing of the interurban tracks. It was said today that two of the injured may die.

The persons killed are Alice and Mildred Rogers, age two and five, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ora H. Rogers, Fourth Avenue, Beech Grove; and Mrs. Herman Kail, also of Beech Grove, wife of the driver of the automobile. The children were killed instantly and Mrs. Kail died at the Methodist hospital about two hours after the accident.

The injured persons are Mr. and Mrs. Ora Rogers, parents of the children killed; two other children of the Rogers family, Helen, age one, and James, age four; Helen age five, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kail, and Loren Hanna, age five, son of Charles Hanna, also of Beech Grove. Mrs. Rogers and the little Kail girl are said to be in a serious condition.

Dr. Richard A. Poole, coroner, has begun a thorough investigation of the accident with a view to determining who was to blame. Witnesses will be summoned to testify before the coroner Monday morning. All the persons killed and injured were occupants of Kail's machine, which he was driving southwest in Southeastern avenue. The interurban tracks run parallel to Southeastern avenue at that point and the accident occurred just as Kail was endeavoring to cross the tracks in turning south in Arlington avenue.

Kail, who was the only member of the party who escaped injury, told Dr. Poole and Lieutenant Johnson and a squad of police, who investigated the accident, that the engine of his automobile "died" just as he drove on the tracks. He got out, he said, and was trying to push the machine across the tracks when he saw the interurban approaching.

When he saw that it would be impossible to get the car off the tracks, he stood in the center of the track for a few seconds, he said, and waved both hands to signal the motorman to stop. Rogers, who was in the car at the time of the crash,

COAL PRICES FOR THE COUNTY FIXED

Are Fifty Cents a Ton Higher Than Last Winter. But Are Not Subject to Change

APPROVED BY STATE BODY

Rush County Will Get 40 Percent of Anthracite Consumed Winter of 1916 and 1917

The prices which Rush county people will pay for next winter's supply of coal have been fixed by the county fuel administrator, Samuel L. Traub, and approved by the state fuel administration. They show an increase of fifty cents a ton over last winter's prices.

These prices will prevail all winter, the fuel administrator states, regardless of the freight rates recently announced. The prices are as follows:

Kentucky and West Virginia lump, at the bin, $7.00; delivered, $7.50.

Brazil block, at the bin, $6.00 delivered, $6.50.

Indiana lump, at the bin, $5.25; delivered, $5.75.

No effort has been made to fix the price of anthracite and will not be made until it is known how much Rush county will get. According to announcement of the national fuel administration, Indiana will receive forty per cent of the anthracite it consumed during the winter of 1916 and 1917.

These figures will be learned as soon as possible from the state fuel administration and then it will be definitely known how much anthracite Rush county gets. The Indiana allotment will be apportioned among the counties by the state fuel administration and the allotment for each county in turn will be apportioned by the county administrator. The state administration will not

JUNE 3 LAST DAY TO ENLIST IN ARMY

Rush County Boys Must Speed up
If They Wish to Escape the Latest Draft

POSTMASTER HUNT ADVISED

Rush county boys who have become twenty-one since the last registration was taken, will find it necessary to "speed up" if they wish to enlist before they are caught in the draft eddy.

Postmaster G. P. Hunt has received a notice from the Indianapolis recruiting office at Indianapolis regarding the enlistment of young men who have recently attained their twenty-first year. The text of the message of Maj. Thomas Ryan follows.

"Young men who have become twenty-one since June 5, 1917 and who may desire to volunteer in the army before the date set for their registration, June 5, 1918 must arrive at this office not later than June 3, 1918 as their enlistment must be completed prior to June 5, and in order to do so, it is necessary that they reach the recruit rendezvous by June 3 and that will necessitate their arriving here on that date.

"All branches of the service are open, as indicated in my previous letters, with the exception of the aviation section of the signal corps which is still closed."

PROLONGS STAMP CAMPAIGN HERE

War Savings Committee Announces
It Will Not Close Until Wednesday at Midnight

"SPEEDING UP" IS URGED

Manilla, Living up to Former Records, Sends in Most Gratiifying Report of Out Townships

The War Savings Stamp drive in Rush county which was scheduled to close Monday at midnight, has been prolonged for two days, allowing the canvassers until Wednesday at midnight to complete their work in the various districts.

This latest ruling which is general through Indiana, was made known yesterday evening at the office of John A. Tittsworth, county chairman, in a message from Joseph D. Oliver, state director of sales, who sent out the following message to be given out to all canvassers and committee-men:

"Owing to the heavy rains this week and the difficulty of canvassing on Decoration day, I authorize you to notify your committee and workers that the campaign will be prolonged until Wednesday night at twelve o'clock."

Even with the lengthened time in which to conduct the sales, however, Rush county committeemen today stated that there would have to be an amount of "speeding up" done among the workers, if the desired objective—$50,000—is obtained before the close of the drive.

Reports which were obtainable today indicated that during the week the campaign has lacked a certain amount of intensity necessary to make it a success and as a result only $20,000 in sales have been reported, leaving sales which must amount to $30,000 to be reported before Wednesday at midnight.

One reason for the shortage is attributed to the fact that in some districts, canvassers allowed people, who according to their means should have purchased a hundred dollar card, to buy one thrift stamp card amounting to less than five dollars. In other cases the solicited signed up with the canvassers to purchase a supply of Thrift or War Savings stamps sometime between now and Christmas time, which of course will not enlarge the purse in the present drive.

The county chairman and other executive members of the drive got in touch with the chairmen in the various townships today, urging them to "speed up" their canvassing to a more intensive campaign during the remaining days of the drive in an effort to bring Rush county's subscriptions up to the expectations of

THIRTY-NINE GET DIPLOMAS

Dr. J. A. Woodburn Traces America's Heritage and Urges Graduates to be True to Ideals

There were two vacant chairs at the Rushville high school commencement last night.

They were draped with American flags, symbolic of the sacrifice two young men who were graduated with this year's class, have made for their flag and their country. Every reference to them was applauded by the audience.

Harold Wolcott, one of the graduates who was expected to be here for the commencement, did not arrive in time from Newport News, Va., where he is in training. William Sexton is the other graduate in the army. John R. Mills, too, was absent, having gone to Washington several weeks ago to accept a position in the ordnance department. These three young men left with the permission of the board of education and with the understanding that they would receive their diplomas.

Last year there was one vacant chair at the commencement, in honor of Tom Saunders, a graduate, who is now fighting with the Marines on the battle fields of France.

Thirty-nine diplomas were awarded last night by Superintendent J. H. Scholl following a brief address by Dr. James Albert Woodburn of Indiana University on the subject,

FIRST CHANCE FOR LIMITED SERVICE MEN

They Are Given Opportunity to be Listed for Voluntary Induction—
May be Drafted.

PERIOD LASTS UNTIL JUNE 6

The first opportunity for selected men held for limited service to get into the service has been offered. The army selection board has a notice today from the state conscription agent to list them for voluntary induction until June 6 for certain lines of work. They will all be put in the spruce production division. If there are not enough volunteers when the state allotment is determined, limited service men will be drafted. There are fourteen held for limited service in this county.

"Repeated requests have been received at this office for an opportunity for limited service men to enter the service," says the notice. "These men will be engaged in spruce production work for airplanes, which is interesting and healthful and if properly presented should appeal to qualified registrants."

Men suited for the following kinds of work are wanted: Locomotive engineers, locomotive firemen, railroad grade foremen, railroad track foremen, wooden bridge carpenters, locomotive repairmen, telephone linemen, surveyors or railroad instrument men, telegraphers, draftsmen, pile driver foremen, stationary engineers for donkey engines, steam shovel operators, carpenters, steam fitters, electricians, auto mechanics, auto drivers, cooks, clerks, railroad brakemen, railroad conductors and laborers.

Ask the Garage Man—He Knows

ASK ANY GARAGE MAN—those who do not also sell automobiles—about the various makes of motor cars and motor trucks.

ASK HIM WHICH ones come to him most—which least often.

HE'LL TELL YOU TRUE for it is a strange fact that though you'd expect him to be partial to those that come oftenest and run up the biggest repair bills, as a matter of fact his attitude is just the opposite.

HE LIKES THE KIND that, being well made and accessible, are soon out of the shop with a reasonable bill for adjustment or repairs—and a satisfied customer.

THE OTHER KIND cause frequent wrangles and endless enmities—in other words, they come once, stay over long, leave in an unsatisfactory condition and seldom return.

SO HE DOESN'T like those cars.

HE LIKES REOS—never heard of a garage owner or foreman that wasn't a warm friend of Reo's.

EVEN WHEN HE DOES sell some rival make of automobile or motor truck, he will admit, if you ask him, that Reo is "next best" to the one he sells.

ASK SEVERAL such agents and you'll find that, almost without exception, Reo is "next best"—and putting the replies all together you have the answer.

ANY MECHANIC in any garage will tell you that the Reo is the most accessible car he has ever worked on.

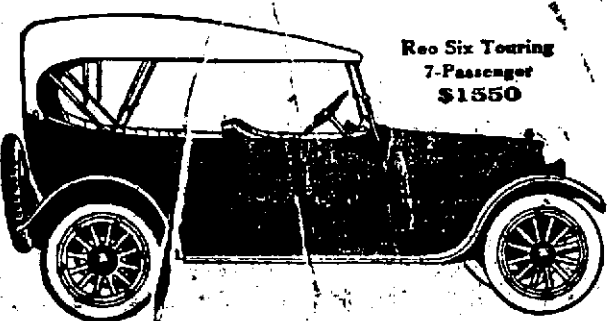

HE'LL TELL YOU—for this is a point that your garage man considers of the utmost importance—that Reo-cars have the best bearings at every point ever put into a car or truck.

WE COULD go into details and explain why this is so but space forbids. Besides, we are suggesting that you ask an impartial judge—one who knows. He will tell you in more convincing—and more forcible garage language why Reos stand up—why the mechanic likes them and why the upkeep is so low.

The reports have been exceedingly slow in being sent into the headquarters. "American Ideals and the World War," in which he traced the growth of liberty in the United States.

Supt. Schell announced after the diplomas had been distributed that Harold E. Perkins, a member of the class, had been awarded a scholarship to Wabash college at Crawfordsville and that Ralph Martin had been awarded the scholarship from this county to Purdue university by the county commissioners.

The high school musical organizations provided the music for the commencement. The program opened with the orchestra playing a march from "Aida" by Verdi. The graduating class sang "To the Class of 1918," accompanied by the orchestra. Following the address, the boys and girls glee clubs sang a group of three songs. "When the Flag Goes By," "America's Message," and "The Home Road." The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. L. E. Brown and the benediction by the Rev. C. J. Bunnell.

By comparison with other great wars, Dr. Woodburn showed how the present war is really a world war because of the 1,700,000,000 people living in the world, 1,500,000,000 are living under flags which are engaged in the war.

"It is a war of the peoples," he said, "and its outcome depends largely on the courage of those behind the lines."

He enumerated the material agencies which we were expected to use to help win the war, such as conserving food and building more ships, but said that the mental agency which we call morale is the greatest factor in the prosecution of the war.

"I don't know how it is to be explained," he said, "but it exists. It is morale that is meant when we say that one courageous man is worth a thousand cowardly, spineless ones."

"This leads up to our ideals—what we believe. They are our heritage, that which has been handed down to us as sacred by our forefathers. One of them is liberty. We have fought and died for it and again it is our privilege to fight so that it may be extended throughout the world."

Dr. Woodburn recalled that we

Frank Wallace, who evaded the authorities here several months ago after being arrested and released on a $250 bond, has been located in Greenfield and will be brought to this city to stand trial.

Mr. Wallace was arrested by local police a year ago for petty larceny and drunkenness. He was employed as junk buyer by Hyman Schatz who went on the defendant's bond, guaranteeing his temporary release. When the time for his trial came, the man was not to be found in or about the city and although an effort was made to locate him, it was without avail. Yesterday, however, Greenfield authorities notified Chief of Police Yakey that Wallace had been arrested there for petty larceny but that he could be taken to the local court if they wished to send for him. Prosecutor Stevens went to Greenfield this morning to secure the prisoner.

have not only civic and religious liberty, but also equality and human rights, another heritage which was fixed in the Declaration of Independence, that government shall be only by the consent of the governed. The third heritage he mentioned was peace and he declared that in spite of a war into which we were forced, we are a peace loving people.

ship anthracite only on approval of the county administrator.

The announcement that Indiana will get forty per cent of its consumption of winter before last means that Rush county will get much more hard coal than it was possible to get here last winter. The shortage of hard coal then was most pronounced.

Now that the prices to be charged for the various grades of soft coal have been fixed, the county fuel administrator urges that consumers place their orders at once. There are two advantages to following his advice, which likewise is the advice of the state and national fuel administrators. Dealers will have some idea of how much coal they will need to supply their customers and will be able to get in many cars this summer when conditions of traffic are better than they will be next winter.

Another suggestion of the fuel administration is that people use weather strips on their windows and doors as a coal conservation measure. It is declared by these authorities that from thirty to forty per cent of the coal normally burned can be saved.

TOLL ON PRESIDENT LINCOLN LIKELY SMALL

No Further Details Are Received Concerning Sinking of American Transport

WAS ON HER RETURN VOYAGE

Washington, June 1.—No further details have come concerning the torpedoing yesterday of the American transport President Lincoln, while returning to the United States from Europe. The attack was made by daylight, and it is not believed there were many casualties. The President Lincoln was formerly a German liner, and measured 18,000 tons.

Announcement of the loss of the big transport was received in a dispatch from Vice-Admiral Sims last evening, saying merely that the vessel had been torpedoed, and that it sank an hour later.

Officials were inclined to believe that the loss of life was very small, owing to the fact that the transport was homeward bound, and was probably carrying only a few passengers, and also since the ship remained afloat for an hour all on board probably were able to get away. The only casualties, it was said, probably were those killed or injured by the explosion of the torpedo.

FATHER OF LOCAL MAN DIES

William F. Meyers Succumbs at Home in Decatur County

The funeral services for William F. Meyers of Decatur county, father of Roy Meyers of Milroy, were conducted yesterday afternoon at the residence at two o'clock after which burial was made in the Union cemetery.

Death came as the result of a heart attack which lasted only an instant. He had been in ill health for six weeks but his condition was not critical and his death came as a shock to his numerous friends and relatives in this county where he formerly resided. His widow and three sons, Roy, of this county, John of South Monfort, and Clarence of Greensburg, survive.

said the collision occurred so quickly that it was impossible for any one to get out of the machine.

The interurban car, which was running at high speed, struck the automobile squarely and hurled the occupants along both sides of the track. The automobile was thrown against a telephone pole near the crossing, the force of the impact being so great that the pole was broken near the top. The running board and windshield of the auto were carried nearly 1,000 feet down the tracks, the police said.

Ira Branham, 402 South Rural street, the motorman on the interurban, said he blew his whistle at the regular signal post about 150 yards from the crossing, and that he blew the whistle again when he saw the automobile on the tracks.

When he realized that the machine was "stalled," he reversed his motor, he said, and tried to stop the car. He stepped back into the vestibule just before the crash, he said. The conductor of the car was Jesse Giles, 415 East New York street, brother of patrolman Giles, of the police department.

Mrs. Kail, her daughter, and the Hanna boy were taken to the Methodist hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and their two children, who were injured, were attended by Dr. T. B. Terrell, 5656 East Washington street and Dr. W. E. Barnum of Manilla, Ind., and then removed to the St. Francis hospital at Beech Grove. Dr. Terrell was near the scene of the accident, and Dr. Barnum was on the interurban. The bodies of the two children killed were carried nearly 1,000 feet and brought down town and transferred to the city morgue.

Kail told the police that he had taken the Rogers family, who live next door to him, and the Hanna child, for a ride, and was taking them back home when the accident occurred. The automobile was a new one, he said, and he had been driving it only about two weeks.

leau-Thierry and Bernenil, but have failed to force a crossing of the river at any point, the French official statement indicated today.

The British are still holding Rheims.

Violent fighting occurred yesterday and last night on the left flank south of Soissons, the French hurling the Germans back on the Crise river by counter attacks, recapturing Chaudin and Vienzy and taking several hundred prisoners.

"The German attack last night was violent both on the front from Soisson to Chateau and to Thierry," the statement said.

"On the right the French are holding the Dormans-Rheims road where sharp fighting continues. The situation is unchanged northwest and north of Rheims."

Hurling the weight of great numbers against the stubbornly resisting French defense north and south of Soissons, the German crown prince has been unable to make progress on this vital sector of the battle line from Noyon to Rheims. In the center, German detachments have reached the Marne, between Chateau Thierry and Dormans, while on the east the Franco-British line stands firm.

After the retirement to the line through Blencourt and Epagny, northwest of Soissons, the French halted, and in a series of furious attacks and counter-attacks, have held the enemy forces. West of Soissons, too, the Germans have been repulsed with great losses and south of the town in violent fighting yesterday evening and last night, the French hurled them back on the Crise river by counter-attacks, recapturing Chaudin and Viez and taking several hundred prisoners. Along the Oureq, the Germans gained near Quichy-le-Chateau and threaten Chateau Thierry, an important railway center on the Marne, forty-six miles northeast of Paris, and now occupy a thirteen-mile front on the north bank of the Marne between Chateau Thierry and Verneuil, but have failed to force a crossing of the river at any point, the French official communique indicated today.

In the center, where small enemy forces have advanced southward to the Marne, the French tactics in the last few days apparently have been to retire until the line of the Marne, of heroic memory, could be reached. Standing on the Marne and with the river in front of them, the forces in the center may attempt more strongly to check the German onrush.

In advancing to the Marne, the Germans have made ineffective the use of the Paris-Chalons railway, which parallels the river on the south. The railway has been the most direct of several rail supply lines to the Champagne and Verdun.

Buy W. S. S.

The first statewide War Savings Drive in Hoosierdom begins May 27th and ends June 3rd. During this week it is planned to sell $7,500,000 in W. S. S.

At first glance it may seem that $7,500,000 is a whole lot of money to expect to secure in War Savings in one week. But, let us pause and consider how little $7,500,000 means to each of us when spread out over the entire state. It means $2.50 in W. S. S. for every person in the state. This is all—just $2.50 each.

Certainly we should be able to sell an average of $2.50 per capita in one week. We can and we will—if every person in Indiana does his or her duty.

Of course some will buy more than $2.50 worth—but many will have to in order to keep the average up—but, many will want to. Because, buying W. S. S. is Patriotic and, W. S. S. is the best investment the Government has ever offered.

The Spirit of Kansas

The spirit that inspired men on the Western front to say, "They shall not pass!"—and that steered them to the endurance necessary to prove what they said—is the spirit that inspires the people of Kansas to say, "The wheat crop will be harvested!"—and that will fortify them for the hardships necessary to prove what they say.

Kansas is rolling up its sleeves and going to work. That is the answer of the great wheat state to the farm-labor situation. Almost 100,000 men in Kansas are preparing to leave their jobs and businesses in towns and cities and work in the harvest fields. The number of hands actually needed may be less than this. It may be more. But in every town and city in the state the volunteers are ready to respond to the harvest needs, whatever they may be. Town women are volunteering, as well as town men. They are going to the farm kitchens all over the state to cook food for the army of volunteer harvesters. High school boys are fitting into the mobilization; those who are big and strong enough will work in the harvest fields, the others will perform lighter tasks. In short, this year's great war harvest of wheat, Kansas is preparing to divert to its farms a tremendous supply of man power from the towns and cities. The state has adopted, on a wholesale basis, the suggestion first made months ago by the United States department of agriculture, and frequently repeated by that department—that emergency farm-labor needs be supplied in each locality, as far as possible, by town volunteers. It is a war necessity.

The answer Kansas is making to the harvest-labor problem is the answer that Nebraska, Minnesota, the Dakotas, and every wheat-producing section will make, later this summer, as the harvest season moves north. The Kansas example will demonstrate in a practical way what every other wheat state can do.

For several weeks prior to the Kansas harvest, physical-training classes have been conducted in many Kansas towns, in order that the volunteer harvest hands might be hardened for the severe tasks to come. This plan started in Kansas City, where the Kansas City Athletic Club started a "Loyal Physical Fitness Club"—outdoor exercises under the direction of professional instructors, with no charge to men taking this course in order to be fitted for the harvest fields. In towns all over the state classes were allowed merely to volunteer for harvest fields. They were required to volunteer for the preliminary training as well.

Recently in Kansas City a conference was held at which this "everybody go to work for the harvest" program of state-wide application was adopted. It was estimated at this meeting that Kansas will produce over 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. It was known that there would be labor difficulties in connection with the harvest. It was realized that every federal and state agency and public organization must agree upon and co-operate in a clear-cut, specific program—and that program, to which general agreement was given—may be expressed briefly as 'shutting up shop' entirely or partially over the state during the harvest—subordinating if necessary other efforts and activities to the one task of saving the wheat crop—calling upon every man to harden himself and get into overalls for a few weeks.

In each city and town a special committee of alert business men was named to carry out the details of local organization. The governor proclaimed a certain period for registration of volunteers, both men and women. Transportation plans, were worked out in each community—automobiles being used principally. County agents worked hand in glove both with the state and the local committees, and the farmers' sympathetic understanding of the plan was furthered very greatly by these agents.

Of course, Kansas expects to use all the outside labor that can be secured for the harvest. Every state does. But in Kansas, as in every state, this supply will be altogether insufficient for the needs. The "Kansas spirit" is the certain solution of the problem, in this and in every state—the "roll up your sleeves and go to work" spirit—the spirit that can be shown as truly although with less glory and less peril, on the wheat fields of the middle west as on the battle fields of France.

HOW FOCH WILL WIN THE VICTORY

In the whole history of war, as one journal remarks, one can find no individual responsibility equal to that of Gen. Ferdinand Foch, "called to the head of six millions of soldiers to achieve victory for human liberty and civilization." Four great nations have unreservedly entrusted their armies and their destinies to this French general. More than six millions, in fact, may be under his supreme command, for the Italian Premier says that the Allied conference "recognized a united front from the North Sea to the Adriatic as an effective reality"; and some estimates place the Allied troops in France and Belgium alone at not less than six million. What, ask our military critics of the press, is the plan of this leader in whose genius the Allied nations have such faith?

It is to answer this question that the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 1st has been prepared. The article includes the opinions of the war experts and presents all available information.

This number of "The Digest" might justly be termed a "Foch Number," because the cover shows a strikingly handsome reproduction in colors of an authentic picture of the great French Commander-in-Chief.

"The Digest" Prevents a One-Angled View

These are anxious days in Flanders and Northern France and those of us who look only at the heroic struggle the British are making against heavy odds may be perhaps the least bit fearful of the outcome. But this is only a partial view, after all. What we should do is to survey the Allied lines as a whole—French, American, Italian, and English—and then we realize at once that the pressure at the North is only a part of the great struggle, and that Southward hope and help are still to be had in generous measure. So, too, the reading of but one morning or evening paper gives one a merely partial view of this great world-crisis. What is needed is a reasoned analysis of the whole situation, drawn from all possible sources, and quoting the views of many periodicals. This you have every week in THE LITERARY DIGEST, the greatest of news magazines. Buy a copy and be convinced.

War Hints — War Helps — War Duties

Compiled and Condensed for the Indiana State Council of Defense by George Ade.

No matter how long you live after it is all over, your War Record will always be sitting on the front colleges. State authorities and local veterinarians, to control hog cholera. The effectiveness of their efforts and the success of modern methods of combating this disease is shown by the fact, during 1914 the hog mortality from disease was 7,000,000 head, as compared to 3,000,000 in the year ending March, 1918, 90 per cent of the deaths being due to hog cholera. The losses in 1914 were equivalent to the normal consumption of pork and pork products by the entire population of the United States for 37 days.

The $938,000,000 which Director General McAdoo has allowed the railroads for rehabilitation is found to be none too much in the view of experts—who recall that James J. Hill, more than ten years ago, laid down the proposition that the railroads of the country require $1,100,000,000 a year for improvements and extensions. What would cost that sum "then would surely cost practically twice as much now in these days of enhanced prices; and while the money authorized by Mr. McAdoo sounds like a large sum it is not so much, after all.

porch. Let us hope that the neighbors will speak well of it.

The U. S. Food Administration says to use more milk. Don't say you can't live on a milk diet. Probably you can't remember the period, but for a time you subsisted on milk and milk alone. And gained in weight!

The State Council wants every county to round up the foreign-born and make Americans of them, if they have the makings in them. The request comes from the government at Washington. English must take the place of imported jabbers. Each adult must learn that in claiming the privileges of citizenship, he assumes a few important responsibilities.

Rural motor express lines are coming and they are approved by the National and State Councils. We have the roads in Indiana. Motor trucks, gliding along our main highways will relieve the congestion at every railway shipping point. Farmers can market produce to better advantage when given direct motor routes. One man with a truck will take the place of five men on wagons. Food products now wasted will get to market. At present the motor truck is a war necessity but it will stay for all time to come, so make way for it.

Last year we had in this country a surplus of 20 million bushels of wheat, for export. We have sent to the allied countries nearly 120 million bushels. We will send 150 million bushels before the next crop is in. Every good American who has eaten "war bread" without complaint has helped to make this glorious result possible.

Economize! Your economies will help to pay the expenses of war. Don't use for your own private convenience any raw or manufactured materials which can be used in carrying on the war. Don't spend money unless you have to spend it. Any time you commit a wasteful act you are acting friendly toward the Kaiser. Be a tight-wad for a while in regard to dress and food and manner of living. One army is in the field. Another army is working at home. You should be ashamed of a soldier from your town if he held back when the other boys went forward. You will be ashamed of yourself some day if you run away from your plain duties here at home. All of which is not a presumptuous piece of personal advice by the writer, but a boiled-down message from the war managers at Washington.

It may be too late to increase the acreage of farm products, but it is not too late to increase the yield per acre, harvest the whole crop and cut out all wasteful losses between the field and the granary.

Isaac Straus of Ligonier is the General Foch of the Boys' Working Reserve. He says that less than five percent of the town boys who go out to help the farmers fail to make good. By the way, tell the boys in your neighborhood that they are not wanted in the ship-yards. If they feel work coming on, tell them to go out and plow corn.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

Mrs. Ed Pitman gave a very pretty party last night at her home in North Jackson street, honoring Mrs. Jan Weeks. Guests for three tables of cards were entertained, including the eight members of the 500 club, and four other guests. Spring flowers were used as a decoration in the rooms and at the close of the pleasant evening, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Will McMillin, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Smullen, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Logan and son, William, and Miss Ida Foley were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Nixon Friday evening. Music was furnished by Mrs. Luther Nixon and Mrs. Ross Logan throughout the evening. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. William Brown and sons, William Edward and Russell Lowell and Mrs. Esther Selby of Richmond and Miss Lula Brown of New Salem were the guests at a pretty dinner party Wednesday given by Mr. and Mrs. James Martin at their beautiful country home near Richland. A large bouquet of roses in platinum effect formed the centerpiece for the table.

The meeting of the Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church will be held Monday evening at the home of Miss Beth Gronier in North Main street, instead of at the home of Miss Hazel Woolen as previously arranged.

The members of the Evening Card club were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Duncan at

Red Cross To Enroll Next Month

Owing to Unexpected Demand For Large Supply of Nurses, Campaign Has Been Announced For Week of June 3. All Plans For Campaign Must be Hastened According to Demands.

Owing to the unexpected demand for a large number of nurses, the enrollment campaign announced for June 10 will begin June 3. This announcement reached the Indiana State Council of Defense today from the Lake Division of the American Red Cross. A further announcement came that "all plans must be hastened." In 160 of the 355 chapters of the Lake Division, active campaigns will be waged for enrollment and for the listing of students for training schools. County clerks in Indiana, with whom all registered nurses are listed have been asked by Miss Mary M. Roberts, director of the Bureau of Nursing at the Lake Division headquarters, to report all tabulated information including the names. To the chapter nursing committees Miss Roberts has sent full campaign instructions, the dominant note of which is "convince the nurse employing public that it must spare eligible nurses to the Red Cross which serves as a recruiting agency to the army and navy nursing corps."

The quota for the Lake Division is 1700 nurses. The popular support of the Red Cross as manifested by the general subscriptions to the second war fund drive, is expected to reassert itself in this drive for the number of nurses needed.

Red Cross Notes

Until further notice the Red Cross headquarters for the surgical dressing work will be closed until an announcement is made for the reopening of the work.

The officials of the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross have received $37.75 for the treasurer, which represents the net proceeds from the school garden which was raised at Raleigh last summer.

HOLD PERFECTLY GOOD AUTOMOBILE

Anderson Men Who Left it as Security Fail to Show up For Trial Friday

RUN CARS WITH NO NUMBERS

A "perfectly good" automobile minus two license plates is at the police headquarters here, left as security by two men who were arrested in the city, driving cars without licenses.

Thursday evening Joseph Russell and Robert West of Anderson, Ind., who are engaged in the junk business in Carthage were arrested by Policeman Basil Seward as they were passing through the city in two machines without licenses. They were ordered to appear yesterday morning to stand trial in the mayor's court and as a guarantee of their return, left one of the automobiles with the police. The men have not appeared and speculation concerning what measures will be taken to dispose of the car is running high at the police headquarters.

Days Pickings

Lieut. D. W. Brann, of the forty-sixth infantry regiment, has been transferred from Atlanta, Georgia, to Camp Sheridan, near Montgomery, Ala., according to a message received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brann of this city. The entire regiment entrained yesterday for their new quarters.

Mrs. Sam Beckner, colored, was the hostess last night for a delightful surprise party, honoring her husband's forty-ninth birthday, at her home at 523 East Eighth street. Mr. Beckner was the recipient of many presents and at the close of the evening, which was spent in a general social time, light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Professor E. P. Huntington, the noted organist of Cleveland, Ohio, will preside at the organ at the services in the Main Street Christian church tomorrow, at both morning and evening service. Professor Huntington, whose concerts as an organist have become famous, has appeared here on several occasions. While here he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Case.

James Casey, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Vester Casey, underwent a slight operation this morning at the Sexton hospital, when his tonsils were removed. He is recovering from the effects of the operation.

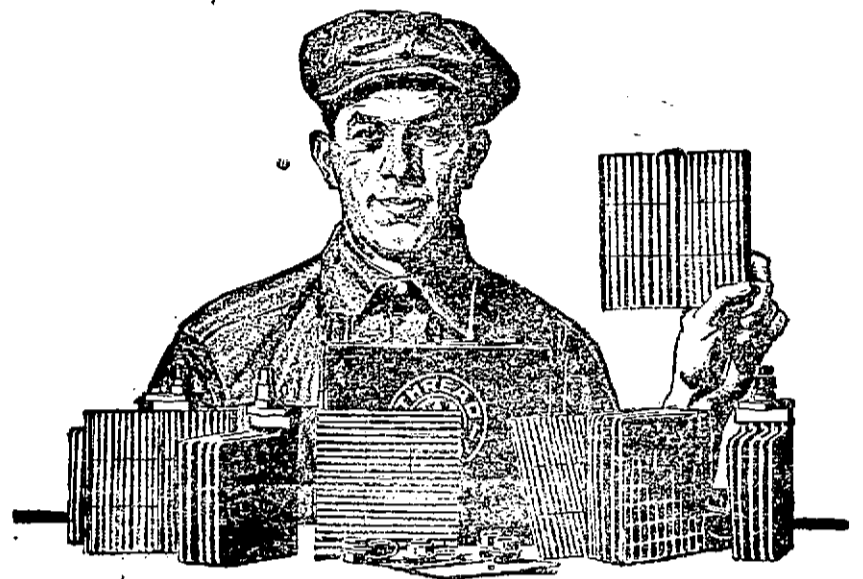

An eight pound boy was born to the wife of Clarence Weidner southwest of the city yesterday. The child has been named Hubert.

A marriage license has been issued to Miss Violet Jones, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jones of this city, and Earl Hess of Friendship, Ind.

RED CROSS BOOK CARES FOR REQUEST

Council of Defense Asks That All Data Pertaining to County War Activities be Saved.

TO PRESERVE HONOR ROLLS

Rush County Work Has Been Almost Entirely Covered by Committee Compiling County History.

That Rush county's Red Cross war book has taken care of most of the war activities history desired by the state council of defense, is evident in the communication received recently from the defense council in which the various lines of military material to be saved for future date was made known.

The council has made an appeal asking that any necessary steps be taken to collect and deliver to the library all available exhibits of county war activities including the list of registered men in the county, the names and addresses of Red Cross nurses, the names and addresses with company, regiment, and rank of every man in the county, who is engaged in military or naval service.

A request has also been made to preserve honor rolls kept by different organizations and to procure all letters and diaries of local men and women in the service. Preservation of price lists, financial statements of local firms and factories, and of every picture connected with our community and the war has also been asked.

With the exception of the preservation of the economic and industrial materials which has hitherto been passed without notice, all of the matters have been recorded in the county Red Cross war book, about to be published.

In the preservation of pictures which link Rush county with the present war, people contributing them should see that each is marked clearly as to the subject and the date. Posters of local interest whether done by hand or printed are also among the list of material to be saved.

LEAPS FROM WHEEL AND ESCAPES INJURY

Ralph McDaniel Encounters Machine on Wrong Side of Street and Avoids Collision

ACTO RUNS OVER BICYCLE

Ralph McDaniel, age twelve, escaped serious injury by leaping from his bicycle, which was in the direct path of a speeding automobile, last night, about 9:30 o'clock while riding north in Perkins street near the Catholic church. Young McDaniel had just turned the corner into Perkins and was on the right side of the street when he saw the machine bearing down upon him, running on the wrong side of the street. He tried to turn to the other side, but saw that a collision was unavoidable and leaped from his bicycle.

The machine never stopped and the boy was not able to see the number. It passed over the rear wheel of his bicycle and demolished it. Although happy that he had escaped injury, the boy regretted the accident very much because he had owned his bicycle less than a week.

He Was Worried And Hopeless

"For ten or twelve years I was bothered with bad kidney trouble," writes T. F. Hutchinson, Little Rock, Ark. "I tried many remedies and doctors, but grew worse all the time. I was worried and had almost given up all hopes. I tried Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me a lot. I have since used five boxes and am now a well man." Foley Kidney Pills drive out aches and pains due to kidney trouble; also sleep disturbing bladder disorders. F. B. Johnson, Adv.

BIGGEST FISH STORY IS HEARD

James Lock of Coden, Ala., Tells of Capture of Deep Sea Monster Weighing 30,000 Pounds.

SCIENTISTS ARE BAFFLED

Could Have Swallowed Jonah Without Indigestive Trouble Suffered by Biblical Fish.

The biggest fish story learned in Rushville for some time was sent here a few days ago by James Lock of Coden, Ala., who formerly resided here. Lacking the proverbial qualities of fish stories, however, this is a true one for which the Smithsonian Institute at Washington vouches.

A great fish which was captured off Florida Keys has been brought to the Mobile harbor, and, according to Mr. Lock, is being displayed there on a private yacht. The monster weighs 30,000 pounds, it is forty-five feet in length and measures twenty-three feet and nine inches in circumference. The liver of the fish alone weighs 1,700 pounds. Scientists have been baffled by the strange monster which they have been unable to place in any class in the realms of fishdom. It was about to be classified as a whale and placed in the class of the great fish which swallowed the prophet Jonah when it was discovered that except for its huge size, the Deep Sea Mystery has not a single feature in common with a whale. The creature is a true fish with all the well known characteristics of a fish, including the gills, which are four feet long and are the means by which it breathes. Yet it does not resemble any species of fish known to scientific authorities.

The story of the capture of the monster, which could have swallowed Jonah without the least trouble of suffering the indigestion noticed following the action of the whale of biblical times, is a most thrilling one and contains the account of the party being dragged through the water at express train speed for hundreds of miles over the ocean for two days and nights before the game was up and the creature safely landed.

Its hide is three inches thick which enables it to withstand an enormous water pressure, a pressure almost inconceivable to man. Its eyes are very small and have no lids, indicating that it lived in the deep where eyes were of no avail. It is the belief of the Smithsonian authorities that the creature inhabited the waters at a depth of more than fifteen hundred feet and that it was blown up by some subterranean or volcanic upheaval which injured its diving apparatus so that it was unable to return to its native haunts.

Granted Decree From John B. Tribby After Hearing of Evidence at Newcastle

CASE FILED IN THIS COUNTY

Leona Tribby of near Arlington was granted a divorce from John B. Tribby in the Henry circuit court at Newcastle yesterday and was allowed $600 alimony by Judge Gause who heard the evidence. It was shown in the testimony that Mrs. Tribby had received $500 the first of this year when her husband sold his farm and the judge thought $600 additional was enough alimony, since it was approximately one-third of the estimated value of Tribby's holdings. The case was filed here and sent to Henry county on a change of venue.

A recent decision of the supreme court, in which it was held that in an affidavit of residence it was necessary to state more than the mere town and county, played a part before the actual start of the case. The defendant objected to the filing of an amendment affidavit of residence, holding that the court did not have jurisdiction, as this should have been done in Rush county. Judge Gause, however, ruled that if the amendment affidavit could be filed in Rush county, it could be done here, and permitted the affidavit to be filed.
